

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

An electronic camera comprising an LCD panel for image reproduction and an imaging device is disclosed, in which private information attaching a predetermined attribute to a designated photographed image can be 5 input, and in accordance with the private information, the image reproduction on the LCD panel is prohibited by a command from a CPU.